

CONSULTATION PREPARATION

Documents to Bring to a Consultation

A practical guide for deciding what context and records may help make an initial Alchemize conversation more useful.

PART 01 / PREPARE THE CONTEXT

Start with the responsibility, not a perfect set of documents.

DESCRIBE THE NEED

- ☐ Write down what you are trying to accomplish, improve, organize, or resolve.
- ☐ Note important dates, deadlines, or decisions already in progress.
- ☐ List the people, providers, agencies, or systems already involved.
- ☐ Identify what feels unclear or incomplete.

COMMON PERSONAL-SERVICE RECORDS

- ☐ Tax notices or current-year tax documents relevant to the question.
- ☐ Insurance policy summaries or communications relevant to the discussion.
- ☐ Unsigned notary documents and required identification information where applicable.
- ☐ Prior correspondence, checklists, or records that explain the situation.

COMMON BUSINESS-SERVICE RECORDS

- ☐ Formation, registration, or business-identification records.
- ☐ Current workflows, forms, procedures, or administrative records.
- ☐ Relevant income, expense, tax, or financial summaries.
- ☐ Notices, deadlines, requirements, or opportunity documentation.

BRING THE QUESTION WITH THE RECORDS

- What outcome are you working toward?
- What has already been tried?
- What decision is currently blocked?
- What would a useful next step look like?

PART 02 / SHARE INFORMATION CAREFULLY

Prepare enough to begin while protecting sensitive information.

BEFORE SENDING ANYTHING

- ☐ Confirm which records are actually needed for the initial conversation.
- ☐ Remove unrelated personal or confidential information where appropriate.
- ☐ Do not use the public contact form or ordinary email for sensitive records.
- ☐ Use an approved secure method only when instructed.

AFTER THE CONSULTATION

- ☐ Organize any follow-up records requested.
- ☐ Complete actions in the order established.
- ☐ Keep notes, decisions, and final documents together.
- ☐ Ask for clarification when an instruction is not understood.

DURING THE CONSULTATION

- ☐ Confirm the responsibility and the desired outcome.
- ☐ Identify missing information, decisions, and scope boundaries.
- ☐ Clarify the appropriate service or referral path.
- ☐ Record the agreed next step and who is responsible for it.

NOTES / QUESTIONS

This guide is for general consultation preparation. The records required depend on the situation and service scope; Alchemize will confirm what should be provided and how it should be shared.
